Plymouth Community Learning Disabilities Team

Supporting people to be Safe, Well and at Home

Who are we?

We are a team of healthcare professionals with lots of different skills

Who can we help?

We can help adults with a learning disability who live in Plymouth

A learning disability is:

- When you have difficulty understanding information
- When you may need help and support with some everyday tasks

Your difficulties will have started when you were younger (before you were eighteen)

How can we help?

We can assess and support:

- Your communication
- Your behaviour and feelings
- Your eating, drinking and swallowing
- Your physical health
- Your mental health
- Your everyday tasks

We can also support:

- Your families and carers
- Other professionals and services when you need them
